Please make sure to review the grant in its entirety for full details.

DATES:

- Eligible applicants must submit application materials by 5:00PM local time on February 19, 2021 to eligible Sea Grant Programs (NY students apply through NY Sea Grant at nysgproposal.org).
- Selected applications from the eligible Sea Grant program are to be received and validated by grants.gov by the deadline of 11:59 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time (EDT) on April 02, 2021. (Note that National Sea Grant Office staff will only be available to answer questions until 5:00 p.m. EDT.)

Please note: validation or rejection of an application by Grants.gov may take up to two business days after submission. Eligible Sea Grant programs should consider this process in developing their submission timeline. For eligible Sea Grant program applications submitted through grants.gov, a date and time receipt indication is included and will be the basis of determining timeliness.

Funding Opportunity Priorities:

A new priority was added to the 2022 NOFO:

The National Sea Grant College program values diversity, equity, and inclusion in both our organization and the communities we serve. Through the Sea Grant Knauss Marine Policy Fellowship we strive to provide an educational and employment opportunity for current and recent graduate students interested in ocean, coastal and Great Lakes resources and the national policy decisions affecting those resources, regardless of race, color, religion, place of origin, gender, sexual orientation, age, socio-economic status, disability or veteran status.

Application submission is through an application to the Sea Grant program in the state in which the student is earning their degree (applicants enrolled at institutions in NY apply through NY Sea Grant at nysgproposal.org). If there is no Sea Grant program, a Sea Grant program will be assigned (see Section IV.D.)

Cost Sharing/Matching Requirements

No cost share is required.

Other Criteria that Affect Eligibility

- The one year fellowship will take place in the National Capital region. Applicants must be prepared to relocate to the Washington, D.C. area. Non-U.S. citizens are responsible for obtaining the appropriate visa to allow them to work in the Washington, D.C. area during the fellowship period.
- Foreign nationals please note: while this fellowship is open to all eligible students regardless of nationality, a significant number of participating Federal host offices are unable to accept foreign nationals as Fellows. This may reduce the number of placement opportunities available to foreign nationals. Note: Foreign nationals are eligible for both the Executive and Legislative cohort.
- Applicants must be able to pass a federal background security check.
- Prior contact/arrangements made with possible host offices before the start of the placement week will be cause for immediate disqualification from the process.
- Applicants that have been accepted as National Finalists and/or become fellows are not eligible to apply again without the written permission of the NSGO Fellowships Manager, which will only be granted in response to exceptional life events. A National Finalists is defined as an applicant who goes through the review process and is selected at the national level for the fellowship program. Applicants are considered finalists until they are placed into a host office during the placement process.

Review and Selection Process

State Level Review

- An initial administrative review is conducted to determine compliance with requirements and completeness of the Application.
- After submission to the eligible Sea Grant program, and if the application meets the minimum requirements, the application will be reviewed at the eligible Sea Grant program level. A panel composed of a minimum of three members will individually discuss each application based on the evaluation.
- Based on the panel discussion, each eligible Sea Grant program may select and forward to the National Sea Grant College Program up to six applications from that program's state/territory based on the evaluation criteria. In addition, up to six additional applications from each non-Sea Grant state/territory may be submitted by the eligible Sea Grant program handling those applications.

National Level Review:

- An initial administrative review is conducted to determine compliance with requirements and completeness of the application.
- For applications that meet minimum requirements, the application will be individually ranked based on the evaluation criteria by individual reviewers.
- The selecting official shall award in the rank order unless the application is justified to be selected out of rank order based upon any of the selection factors provided below. The selecting official shall make final recommendations for award to the grants officer who is authorized to obligate the funds and execute the award.
 - Balance/distribution of funds:
 - across academic disciplines
 - by type of institution
 - geographically
 - Availability of funding.
 - Program-specific objectives.
 - Degree in scientific area and type of degree sought.
